I, Margaret Anderson, leave my noisiness to quiet, shy, little Lyla Morgan.

I, Vera Anderson, leave with the seniors instead of the juniors.

I, Marjorie Augusta, leave the Glee Club without a soloist.

I, Olive Borba, hereby leave the typing class flat!

I, Billy Bowser, leave 1,000 chewed off pencils in our school.

I, Stanley Bray, leave, saying---"I'll bet you four bits!"

I, Douglas Carlisle, leave the gavel to anyone who has brains and brawn enough to "swing it!"

I, Jeanne Crocco, leave my tiny dimples to Beverly Bressi.

I, May De Martini, leave my place as pianist in the orchestra to Charles Howard.

I, Patricia Douglas, leave to be a housewife---but what a happy one.

I, Alzada Griggs, leave as quietly as I came.

I, Dale Heidorn, leave to be a hermit---never did like the girls!

I, Kathryn Higgins, leave my naturally wavy hair to Danny Lucchesi.

I, Bill Hoy, leave a beaten path to the Kelso home.

I, Olga Kalmin, leave to continue "tickling the ivories."

I, Gertrude Karrer, leave my job as editor of the Liberty Lion to anybody who wants it.

I, June Kelso, leave Miss Loze wondering how June gets on so many committees.

I, Hazel Clair Kreim, leave my job as yell leader to somebody who has a lot of pep.

I, Mary Elizabeth Kreim, leave---leave, heck! I'm taking him with me!

I, Francis Lesnau, leave my classes empty (as usual?)

I, Lula Machado, leave to get married.

I, Albert McNamara, leave my well-groomed hair to Bruce Dwelley.

I, Shizuko Okazaki, leave my artistic ability to Anne DeConde.

I, Virginia Prewett, leave my giggle echoing in the hall.

I, Thelma Reynolds, leave my "F's" to Lowell Swift.

I, Tressie Richards, leave to Bill Jason an empty parking space, just in case he ever slows down enough to park.

I, Arvella Russell, leave my red hair to Ruth Rodrigues.

I, Rosalie Seeno, leave my taste for good literature to Gene Kalmin.

I, Andrew Silvas, leave willing but wanting---wanting whom?

I, Marjorie Smith, leave the students still recovering from my very original jokes.

I, Martha Tillotson, leave my small feet to Ernest Burroughs, even though he's proud of the ones he has.

I, Hazel Volponi, leave my job as librarian to Guido Lucchesi.

I, Juanita Webber, leave my accordion to Dale Frey. (Where's the accordion going with the boy?)

I, Mary Westman, leave a lock of my naturally blonde hair. (The only one in captivity.)

I, Donald Wilkins, leave Betty Mikami's car to her (for a change). Oh, you're quite welcome Betty!

June 11, 1957

Dear Staff,

Although you students of today do not remember us, we have never forgotten good old L.U.H.S. Just twenty years ago today we, Marjorie Augusta and Thelma Reynolds, were graduated. When we were freshmen, we planned to save up money and travel together. At last the day came. We have just returned from a world tour, and would you believe what we saw!

We left right after eating breakfast at the Brentwood Hotel. May we compliment Tressie Richards on her excellent cooking? Troubles beset us immediately. We discovered that we had a flat tire. However, we were not delayed long, for that ever-gallant classmate of ours, Billy Bowser, soon repaired it. We left our car at the O.K. Garage, which is now owned by Bill Hoy. His wife, June (Kelso) passed by on her way to take their two children to school where, as you all know, Albert McNamara is now principal.

At the dock at San Francisco, we were pushed by a hurrying passenger whom we later recognized as Shizuko Okazaki. She told us that she was on her way to Paris to continue studying art. We were very surprised and amazed to see a sign advertising "Miss Virginia Prewett----Queen of Burlesque." Thelma was so astounded while trying to read the sign and close our trunk at the same time, that she neglected to take her finger out before she locked the trunk. Marjorie rushed her to the nearest doctor, and who should it be but Dale Heidorn! His wife, Mary Elizabeth, is still his nurse.

At last we sailed. The ship's orchestra (very good too!) was no other than the "Swingsters." After many stops, we arrived at London. Donald Wilkins gave us fine service as a bell hop in our hotel. Olga Kalmin was giving a musical comedy, oh no, we mean a concert! She told us that Francis Lesnau is a preacher.

Our next stop was China. We found out that Stanley Bray is an auctioneer at Hong Kong. Olive Borba is his assistant. Kathryn Higgins was also there trying to get a job as a manicurist.

We decided to visit New York. There we discovered that Jeanne Crocco is clerking in Kress's. She told us that she met several of our classmates in the store, Gertrude Karrer, Margaret Anderson and Arvella Russell. She also told us that May De Martini had made quite a success as a woman lawyer, and Hazel Volponi is a typist for May.

In order to pass away our time on the trip home, we read movie magazines, and we were pleased to see several articles in them written by Rosalie Seeno.

When we reached home, we thought it would be interesting to check the names of the people we had seen with the list of seniors in our 1937 "Liberty Lion." The only ones we had missed were: Alzada Griggs, Mary Westman, Hazel Clair Kreim, Juanita Webber, Vera Anderson, and Marjorie Smith. We knew when we graduated that Patricia Douglas, Lula Machado, and Martha Tillotson were planning to be married.

Of course we know that Mary Westman is an airplane hostess. She wrote the other day and said that she had seen Hazel Clair about a month ago. Hazel was on her way to Ethopia, where she will teach the natives the latest jazz dance steps.

Juanita Webber, Arvella Russell, Vera Anderson, and Marjorie Smith are the only ones that still live in Brentwood. Juanita has a riding academy, Vera teaches art at L.U.H.S. Arvella Russell and Marjorie Smith are married. Oh! and we must not forget Alzada Griggs! Remember her? She now owns a night-club in Harlem.

We were very glad that we were fortunate enough to have seen so many of our former classmates. We wish your class all the luck and success that ours has had!

Affectionately,

Two Graduates of '37

All the Juniors got warmed up for baseball season by pitching balls at chickens in their concession at the Hi Jinx. Everyone came and took a chance at winning anything from balloons to live chickens.

They have had a very active and successful year of giving noon dances and hamburger sales. The Prom was a success in every way but financially.

The second largest class in school, the Sophomores are very school-spirited. A peanut sale at a mud football game is a memorable occasion. Noon dances are also among their specialties. At the Hi Jinx they had a negro-mammy ball-throwing game and a fortune teller.

Freshmen--That's all we seem to see this year. They are by far the largest class in school. After being guests at the Freshmen Reception, they have taken an active part in school life. At the Hi Jinx they had a turkey-raffle and a race-horse game, both of which proved financial successes.

From August 1936 to June 1937

August 31

Well, Well, Well! After roaming around at will all summer, we find the old cage pretty crowded now that some eighty-nine new cubs have joined us. But perhaps we need new blood to spruce us up!

September 18

The Liberty Lions started out the football season with a great victory! The score was Liberty 14 and Emery High 0.

October 9

Tonight the old cage was the scene of gayety once more. The lionesses held their annual Girls' High Jinx. They all came in old clothes and enjoyed a short entertainment. Afterwards refreshments were served, and the remaining part of the evening was spent in games and dancing.

Two new lionesses, Mr. Hoyt and Mr. Durbrow, also entered into the songs and activities. I think that all the fair sex of lion kingdom had a most hilarious time.

October 23

Tonight the lion-trainers cracked their whips and put the cubs through their paces at the Freshmen Reception. We certainly taught them how to roar. Now they do it on the slightest provocation.

October 26

This afternoon the den was the center of two very interesting talks by Clare Poule and Don Golden, both of the University of California. These two brilliant young people gave us a glimpse of the value and glamour of a University education. After the talks, the speakers answered questions and gave pamphlets to all who were interested in a college career. After the talks, I think almost all the Liberty students had secret hopes of some day entering a large university.

November 11

All the cubs and lions were feeling very patriotic today. We had an Armistice Day Vacation. Grrrrrr-r-r-r-r and!

November 12-13

Boy, the old cage fairly glows! For two days all the cubs have been polishing the bars and shining up the door knobs in one grand cleanup for the year. After the work was done, all the cubs gathered in the cage for a feed of hot dogs and soda pop, and a good rest well-earned.

November 25

Today the noise in the halls stopped for a long time. They tell me the lions and lionesses are all out hunting turkeys, and they won't be back for four days!

December 11

The old cage was the scene of great hilarity this evening. Some of the cubs dressed as minstrels and took us below the Mason-Dixon line for a few hours of fun at the Showboat Hi Jinx. Say, and talk about atomsphere! The old cage practically rocked. Even Topsy and Eva were there in all their glory. You should have seen the lions fishing and throwing balls at nigger babies and enjoying all the other concessions.

December 18

Today our keepers drove us out and the den closed up for two weeks, so we all wagged our tails and went home to await Santa's visit!

January 4

It's been pretty lonesome here for the past two weeks, with everybody home for the Christmas holidays, but today things are fine again, all because the old cage is full of hurry and scurry and we're all back at school.

January 25

Today the lionesses donated several very good books to the library. They obtained the money for the books, by raffling off Margaret Mitchell's best seller, "Gone With The Wind." It was a big success, and the library now has several more fine books.

February 12

This afternoon we gathered in the auditorium for a Lincoln's birthday program. Those who helped to make it a success were Marjorie Augusta, Myrle Anderson, Hazel Clair Kreim, Jean Nicol, the Glee Club and the orchestra.

February 12

The members of the G.A.A. went to Antioch to play basketball and hit pin today. They showed Antioch that the lion--even the female of the species--is still the king of beasts. After the games, the cooking class of the Antioch cage served the victorious cubs and the defeated Panthere a spaghetti dinner.

February 22

The cage wasn't filled with the usual Monday excitement today because we had a holiday in commemoration of Washington's birthday.

February 26

This morning Mr. Armstrong, from Armstrong's Business College, gave us a short talk on the necessity of having a purpose in life. His talk was very interesting as well as educational.

March 5

Ever seen a lion in overalls and gingham? Then you should have been at the Liberty Lion Barn Dance! We pranced around the cage in overalls, with our manes bristling from excitement and too much hay. The slide was plenty of fun, too. And pop!..... and confetti!!!!

March 19

There was a great stir among the lions today when they were turned loose a day early for Easter vacation. This excitement was caused by the absence of one of our instructors, Lioness McGinely, who was sick with scarlet fever. For the same reason the Student Body Play was postponed.

April 2

Tonight the Junior lions and lionesses were hosts to a happy crowd at their Junior Prom. The guests gaily strutted under the arbors of luscious grapes for the cage was transformed into "a night in Valencia."

April 16

All of the "standing room only" signs were in use tonight!! The lions presented their annual play to a very appreciative audience. Everyone roared and wagged their tails in happy contentment.

May 4

This is the one day of the year when the old cage is quiet. The seniors have broken loose and have "gone with the wind" for a rollicking good time on the annual senior ditch day.

May 13

The lionesses felt like baby cubs today when they saw their mothers at their annual Mothers' Tea. The cubs put on a very entertaining program.

May 21

Tonight the Senior lions and lionesses roared at the annual Senior Ball. They had the old cage decorated artistically. Every lion present had a good time prancing around to the music of Don Schary and his orchestra.

June 11

Well, tonight those sedate lions and lionesses--the Seniors--are leaving the old cage. Now they're going out into the wide open spaces to conquer the world. They sure look foxy, oh pardon me, that was a mistake.

FACULTY

The L.U.H.S. Student Body is satisfied that it is bringing to a close another very successful year. The officers were especially well chosen and have fully performed their respective duties. President Douglas Carlisle has proved to be an excellent officer and a fine leader. It is hoped that next year's officers will fill their duties as capably as the officers of 1937.

The Student Affairs' Committee has had a very successful and active year, also. Miss Dorothy McGinley and Principal E. G. Nash acted as advisers.

The Glee Club has made quite a name for itself this year and Mr. Rauhut is to be complimented on his fine work. The group has been asked to sing at a number of clubs and social activities in the community.

On May 7, they went to Martinez for the first County Music Festival. This was given for the purpose of putting the importance of music in the schools before the public. Five schools in the county participated.

On April 28, the Glee Club and Orchestra both took part in the annual flower show.

GIRLS LEAGUE

Even the Girls' League felt the Coronation influence and this year they used this idea for their Mother's Tea. They held this annual affair on Thursday afternoon, May 13. They decorated with Coronation colors and the tea fitted in well with the English theme. The program was in keeping with the general idea. The tea was voted a huge success and judged one of the nicest and most charming ever held.

After a postponement of several weeks, the annual Student Body play, "The Folks Next Door," was presented on Friday evening, April 16.

It was a three act light comedy and provided a full evening of entertainment for all who attended. The story revolved about two neighboring families and their mock quarrel. A romance between the son and daughter of the two houses complicates matters, but everything is finally straightened out and they live happily ever after.

Mrs. Evelyn Griffith and Miss Dorothy McGinley directed the play.

Football started this season with much excitement and glory for the "Liberty Lions", since this is only the second year that football had been reestablished here at Liberty High. They won games from four schools, as follows:

September 18	Emeryville 0	Liberty 14
September 25	Rio Vista 7	Liberty 12
October 16	Escalon 0	Liberty 13
October 23	San Ramon 6	Liberty 7

They lost games to four schools, one school defeating them twice:

October 2	Amador 13	Liberty 0
October 9	Galt 13	Liberty 0
October 30	Antioch 6	Liberty 0
November 6	San Ramon 25	Liberty 12
November 20	Antioch 6	Liberty 0

This made a total of nine games. One of the most outstanding of these games was the one between the "Antioch Panthers", and the "Liberty Lions". This game was played in the rain, in spite of wet and bad weather, we had a large crowd. The football field, which was almost completely covered with water, was very muddy and slippery. Both teams, covered with mud and wet to the skin were intent upon winning. The Lions, after putting up a terrific battle, were defeated by one touchdown.

The "A" team brought a successful basketball season to a close by winning its last game over Galt. Although the boys did not win all the games, they made up in spirit what they lacked in score.

The team was made up almost wholly of seniors, and it is hoped that next year's team will be as successful as this year's.

BASE BALL

Extended rainy weather made the boys a little later than usual in starting practice. Despite this handicap they started the baseball season off well by winning their first league game against Concord on April 20, by a score of 9-6. They have shown excellent form from the beginning by winning all of their preliminary games. Coach Vonder Ahe hopes for continual improvement and a thoroughly successful record for the entire season.

This year the boys have shown great interest in track. Mr. Hoyt, the track coach is trying to build a good team for next year. There are possibilities that the County Track Meet will be held here in Brentwood next year so Liberty has high hopes for making a good showing then. The team went to Concord for the semi-finals on Saturday, April 24. The winners met again in Concord for the finals on May 1st.

BASKETBALL B TEAM

The B Team had a hard schedule this year, but it did "as well as could be expected."

The C's, most of whom were freshmen, had some very promising basketball material. They have an excellent record winning 8 games out of 14.

In an interclass game between the Sophomores and the Seniors, the Sophomores won by a close score of 12-10.

The A Team won the first half of the Town League Tournament. A mixed team of sophomores and freshmen played in the league the second half; they also won. In the final play-off between the two victorious teams, the A's won.

BLOCK I

One of the biggest events of the year was a Play Day with the Antioch G.A.A. at Antioch High School. Basketball and hit pin were played, with a winning score of 39-7 for the Liberty girls in the basketball game. The hit pin game was played by a mixed team of both Antioch and Liberty girls. After the games a spaghetti dinner was served in the Antioch Cafeteria. During the dinner yells, talks and songs were enjoyed by all.

The Liberty girls invited the Antioch girls to a return Play Day where they played basketball and volley ball. Refreshments were later served by the Liberty girls.

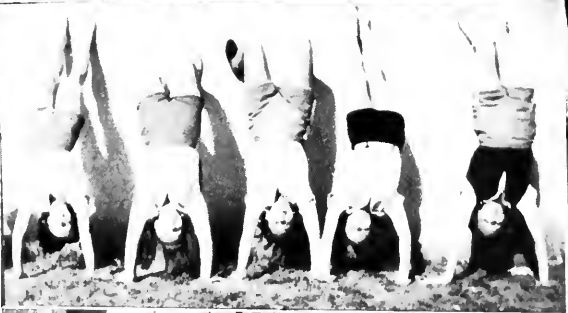

On April 24, the girls attended the County G.A.A. Play Day at the John Swett High School in Crockett, where the girls played various sports, enjoyed a swim, social dancing, and took part in the program.

Under the supervision of Mr. Hoyt a tennis tournament was held. The final winner was Tressie Richards who defeated the runner-up Cecelia Salazar in the close set 6-4.
